

The Sugar Cookie Story

Graber's sugar cookies though they would be great even without the story, hold a special in every day Amish life.

You may or may not be aware of the fact that Amish people don't hold their religious meetings in a church house. They gather in their homes. This is in keeping with their tradition of simple family oriented values. The church service is followed with a sumptuous meal that almost always is complimented with the "church cookie" This desire to keep things close to home, comfortable, and easy to manage in their everyday lives as well as their connection to the "world" is reflected in the "simple" soft sugar cookie that they bake to compliment this Sunday meal. The tradition of enjoying this delightful pastry dates back to the early years of the religion and has continued along with many other traditional favorites.

Even though Graber's has made many delightful cookies including, snicker doodle, chocolate chip, and peanut butter, the "church" sugar cookie has remained the overwhelming favorite of most customers. It's special icing carefully applied to each cookie by hand, seals in the wonderful moist flavor that is unique to the Amish sugar cookie.
